Mystery power cuts hit millions

Mystery power cuts stop thousands of traffic lights and hit millions of homes. Why does this happen? The answer can sometimes be really weird ...

New York City in darkness

From our reporters around the world

1 A mystery power cut hit all of Kenya yesterday.

At 11.30 yesterday, there was no electricity. 4,700,000 homes had no heating and no food. The power cut happened while students at a local school were rehearsing for a school concert. 'I was singing when suddenly all the lights went out,' said 11-year-old Joseph. 'It was so weird.'

Across the country, people were making lunch. 'I was cooking soup when the power went off,' said Ema Sato. 'My cooker is electric, so it stopped working. We had to eat biscuits for lunch!'

25,000 traffic lights stopped working. 'The traffic lights went out when we were walking across the road,' said Miki Suzuki. 'And there was a car accident. An ambulance came but it didn't have to take people to hospital. They're OK.'

The train went dark, a woman shouted and the train stopped – in the dark! It was really scary!

3 What caused the power cut in New York?

Thirteen million people had no electricity for 13 hours. 12-year-old Aimie Sendak was travelling home. 'My train was leaving the station when the lights went out,' she said. 'The train went dark, a woman shouted and the train stopped – in the dark! It was really scary.'

4 A power cut caused a big problem at Kahului Airport in Maui, Hawaii.

There was no electricity, so people couldn't get off their planes. The problem lasted a few hours.

5 What caused all these power cuts?

Was it the weather? The answer is unusual – animals caused them!

- In Kenya, a little monkey jumped onto a power station at Gitaru, and fell into the machines. The monkey was OK, but the power cut lasted for four hours.
- Pigeons made a nest at a power station in Nagano and cut the power.
- A squirrel caused the power cut in New York. Squirrels cause the most power cuts in the USA – over a thousand across the country, every year!
- And the power cut in Hawaii? It happened because of a chicken!

1 1.7 Read the story on pages 18–20. Who are the main characters? What does the title The trick mean?

THE TRICK

Musa and Hakan lived next door to each other in a small village. They were good friends, but there was one problem. Money was very important to Hakan and, unfortunately, it was sometimes more important than his friends.

One day, Hakan noticed that his horse, Atik, wasn't well. 'I think we should sell Atik,' he told his wife, Pinar. 'He isn't strong and healthy anymore.'

Pinar was surprised. 'Sell a sick horse?' she said. 'That isn't honest. And who will buy a sick animal, anyway?'

'Well,' said Hakan, 'I don't know if Atik is sick, but he used to be stronger. Musa needs to travel to the city soon and he hasn't got a horse.'

'But Musa is your friend,' said Pinar angrily. 'You shouldn't sell an unhealthy horse to anyone, and certainly not to your friend!'

'But Musa hasn't got enough money to buy a horse,' explained Hakan. 'I'll give him a very good price for Atik, so I think I'm doing a good thing for my friend!'

Musa was watering the plants in his garden next door when he heard the last part of the conversation through the open window. 'Aha!' he thought. 'So Hakan is going to try and sell me a sick horse. It's time to teach my friend a lesson!'

Soon after that, Atik got better and Hakan gave the horse to his friend as a present to show him how truly sorry he was.

1 Read the story on pages 18–20 again. Answer the questions.

1	Why was Pinar angry with Hakan?
2	Why did Hakan think he was doing 'a good thing' for Musa?
3	How did Musa know that the horse was sick?
4	What accident did Musa say he had?
5	What did Musa want Hakan to do?
6	Why did Hakan decide to tell Musa the truth?

Daniel's diary

aoth February 199a

Another power cut! I'm writing this diary in my bedroom. It's very cold — there's ice on the inside of the window! There's no heating or electricity but I've got a blanket, a torch and a hot water bottle to help me stay warm.

You won't believe what happened today. It was a bad day. A really, REALLY terrible day. I missed the bus, so I had to walk home from school. When I opened my school bag at home, my homework book wasn't there!

I used to get bad marks from my teacher when I forgot my homework. I don't want to do that again.

'mum, what can I do?' I asked. 'I don't know the homework for tonight!' 'Phone your friend mark and ask him,' she said.

Vocabulary

atlas borrow (borrowed) cassette player diary encyclopaedia freezing hot water bottle office phone box remember (remembered)

Phone mark? We used to have a phone in our house, but it's broken, so I walked to the phone box. Then I remembered I didn't have any money, so I went back home and got some coins. I wrote mark's phone number on a piece of paper and walked back to the phone box. But mark wasn't home when I phoned him! He was playing football. What? He didn't use to play football on Thursday nights!

I left the phone box and walked home. It was FREEZING outside! There was snow on the ground and that helped me remember! The homework was about Antarctica!

'Mum, I remembered my homework!' I said when I got home. 'It's about Antarctica! It used to be really cold there, but global warming is changing it! I need to check some things. Where's the encyclopaedia?'

mum looked sad. We used to have an encyclopaedia, but we haven't got one now. My uncle Jack came to visit and borrowed it for work at school — he's a teacher. So I did my homework with an old atlas from my dad's office and some information from a children's book. I don't think it's very good.

I sat by the fire for ten minutes to try to get warm, then I went to bed and listened to music on my cassette player. Then the cassette broke! The machine doesn't work.

And then, I was writing this diary when I spilt ink on the bed.

I'm having a really BAD DAY!

What a day!! I was late for school and we had a trip to the zoo (I forgot!). They had to wait for me and Mrs Tarrant was angry. She gave me extra homework - she used to be my favourite teacher!

The zoo was fun. We fed the monkeys and a cute baby monkey stole Joe's hat! Ha! Ha! Ha! It was awesome! But then we went to the snake house. Yuck! I HATE snakes!

Later I was watching TV when Mum shouted, 'VERA, HOMEWORK!' Arrrgh, we didn't use to get so much homework. Tomorrow I can stay in bed because it's SATURDAY!!

🔖 Learning to learn

Memorising new vocabulary

To help you remember new vocabulary, try to learn a small number of new words (about eight) and repeat these regularly. This is easier than trying to learn 25 new words all at the same time. Here are some ideas to help you revise and repeat new vocabulary:

- Write the words on labels. Stick them on your wall so you see the words every day.
- Record the words and play them back.
- Write sentences with the words. Practise saying the sentences to a friend.

A helicopter ride

Have you ever flown in a helicopter?
Anna and George travelled to New York and enjoyed a helicopter tour of the city. 'It was different to flying in on a plane,' George said. 'I'm a bit scared of heights, but it was fantastic. We had a great view of the landscape up in the air. The helicopter could get close to the ground, and it was really, really noisy! You wear special headsets to protect your ears. The headsets also have microphones so you can talk to the pilot!'

🔖 Learning to learn

Using a mind map to plan

A mind map is a useful way of organising thoughts and information. Look at the mind map a writer made for a webpage about the Skywalk in Shanghai. To make a mind map:

- write the name of your topic in the middle of the page.
- think of ideas related to your topic. Draw lines from the main topic and write your ideas at the end.
- think of more information connected to each idea and add it to your mind map.

Read Eric and Maddy's description of their trip on page 35 and make a mind map of their ideas.

1 $\bigcirc$ Look at the webpage on pages 34–35. Tick ( $\checkmark$ ) the things that are true.

1	It has text and photos.	$\checkmark$
2	The writers use 'I', 'you', 'we'.
3	It's private – only the writers read it.
4	It's formal.
5	It includes the writers' feelings and opinions.
6	It describes places and experiences.

2 You are going to write a webpage section about an adventure activity. Look at the pictures. Then complete the mind map.

3 Use your mind map to write a webpage section. Follow the guide below. Be a star

Start	Write the date (day, month and year).
Opening	Introduce yourself. Talk about why you wanted to have this experience.
Main section	Use your mind map to write about your experience.
	Keep it short. Don't include information that isn't interesting or exciting.
	Describe your feelings and opinions.
Finish	Write something friendly so your readers want to come back to the webpage again.

We spoke to three people who know which job they want to do. We asked them what they're doing now, and what they'd like to do in the future.

The environmental scientist

Marie Patterson wants to be an environmental scientist. 'I've been interested in science, nature and animals since I was little,' says Marie. 'I want to keep the planet safe. I'm going to study environmental science at university.'

Marie is 17, and she has volunteered for Picker Pals in Ireland for two months. 'Picker Pals is great,' she says. 'They send primary schools tools, storybooks and songs. The kids do the activities and have fun collecting litter from the environment with their families. Two thousand schools in Ireland are doing the Picker Pals programme. It's very rewarding – I love learning about the environment!'

The film-makers

The Critics Company is a group of young film-makers from Nigeria who have been making films since 2016. They learnt about film-making on the internet. They needed a 'green screen' for special effects, explains Raymond Yusuff, 18, who is a member of the group. So they saved money and bought the material for the green screen. Then we used my smartphone and borrowed my dad's laptop computer and started filming,' Raymond says. He's wanted to make films since he was a child. He really likes working with special effects.

There are five boys in Critics Company. They make science fiction films that vary in length, but the longest to date is 18 minutes long. Their films are very popular: people watched one of them more than one million times! Famous film-makers sent equipment and money. 'We were so excited,' Raymond says. Now they're making lots of films and they love it!

The computer coder

Pat Leeman, 36, is a computer coder. She works in big factories around the world. How long has she wanted to be a coder? 'I've been interested in computers since I was eight,' she says. 'I learnt on a computer called Raspberry Pi. This taught me how to code, how to build websites and how machines work with computers.' Pat says computer coding is easy. 'A computer is like a big baby,' she says. 'The instructions need to be simple and you have to give a lot of them. When you understand that, you're a coder! I really like writing code.'

Martha Spacey is 14. She likes computers and has studied coding at school for the last year. 'At the moment, I'm designing a car and making it work from a computer. I'm enjoying it – it's really challenging. I'd like to be a coder in the future!'

  - a It's important to play outdoors as well as indoors. b Real tennis is better than virtual tennis.

Abi was playing a virtual tennis game on her tablet.

'Why don't you go and play tennis outside?' suggested Grandma.

'Why would I go outside?' replied Abi. 'Virtual tennis is just as good as real tennis.'

'Ha!' said Grandma. 'I prefer playing tennis outside. Fresh air is important and we won't have it forever!'

'Oh, Grandma,' laughed Abi. 'Of course we will!'

The next day was Abi's birthday. She ran outside to Grandma's workshop. It was full of wonderful inventions - a flying trumpet, a musical pen and a robot window cleaner!

'Happy birthday!' said Grandma as she hugged Abi. 'Wait there and I'll get your present. Be careful though. Remember not to touch anythina!'

Abi looked around the workshop at all the new inventions. Then she noticed an old sheet in the corner. She lifted the sheet and found an old-fashioned purple bike underneath it.

'Hmm ... this bike isn't as interesting as Grandma's other inventions,' she thought. She got on the bike and started to pedal forwards. Suddenly, Abi and the bike were lifted into the air! Whoosh! Clunk!

Abi opened her eyes and realised that she was in the town centre! But everything looked different! All around her there were tall glass skyscrapers with flying cars whizzing past.

'Oh, my goodness! I'm in the future!' she exclaimed, looking at the old bike in surprise. Then she noticed a robot cleaning the street nearby.

'Where is all the grass? Where are all the trees?' she asked the robot.

'What is grass?' asked the robot. 'What are trees?'

Abi looked around. The sky was grey and the air felt polluted. She couldn't see any birds or animals anywhere. In fact, the streets were empty – why weren't there any children playing outside?

'I don't like it here,' she said unhappily. 'I want to go home.' Abi knew what she had to do. She jumped onto the bike and pedaled backwards.

Whoosh! Clunk! Abi opened her eyes and saw that she was back in Grandma's workshop.

'There you are,' said Grandma. 'I was looking for you!'

Abi got off the bike and hugged her grandma.

'Here's your present,' said Grandma. Abi opened it. It was a new time-travel game for her tablet.

'Thanks, Grandma!' said Abi. 'It's fantastic! I can't wait to play it later. But first, can we go outside and play tennis?'

Grandma smiled. 'Of course we can! Real tennis is just as good as virtual tennis,' she said, laughing.

A NEW LIFE FOR YOUR CHEWING GUM AND OTHER THINGS YOU THROW AWAY

Around the world people throw away billions of things every year. This is a big problem because there isn't space on Earth for all our waste.

Scientists have studied the problem, and they have found an answer - the Zero Waste Plan:

- 1. REDUCE Don't buy so many things.
- 2. REUSE Don't throw things away. Use them again.
- 3. RECYCLE Some things can be used again - paper, plastic and glass, for example.
- 4. RECOVER Use the waste to make energy.
- 5. THROW IT RWRY Only if you really have to, throw the waste away.

Let's look at some examples. Every year people throw away a lot of clothes, but we can give them a new life. Think about the clothes you wear – denim jeans, for example. Denim is a type of fabric, made of cotton, and cotton needs a lot of water to grow. You need 10,000 litres of water and a lot of energy to make just one pair of jeans. So if your old jeans are too small but not too old, you can give them to your friends or family. Then they can reuse them. Or you can recycle your jeans – make something new with them, like a bag. Or you can use the fabric to fix other jeans!

In the Netherlands, they've had another recycling idea. In Amsterdam, the capital city, chewing gum is a big problem. 1.5 million kilograms of gum are thrown onto the city's streets every year and the gum stays there for 20 years. It's dirty and it looks bad. Designers looked at the problem and they found an answer: we can use the gum to make shoes! Gum is made of rubber and parts of shoes are made of rubber, too. The gum in Amsterdam is recycled and made into new rubber. Then that rubber is used to make shoes that are sold around the world.

This is how the shoes are made. The streets are cleaned, the gum is collected and transported to a factory. Then the gum is broken down into small pieces and it is added to rubber to make a new rubber mix. The rubber mix is melted and pressed to make the soles of the shoes. Then leather or fabric is cut to make the top parts of the shoes. Factory workers put the parts together and then the shoes are ready to be sold in shops.

It takes about 1 kg of gum to make four pairs of shoes. The shoes still smell like gum – but they don't stick to the streets! It's an example of recycling that really works.

Researching information

The internet is a great place for researching information, but it's not the only place. Here are other ways you can find different information:

- Ask people (teacher, parents, grandparents)
- Use a library (books, encyclopaedias, newspapers, local history / community)
- Watch TV programmes like the news or documentaries.

Internet searches are quick and easy. But when you look on the internet, remember:

- Some articles are true; some articles are false. Check your information. If a story is difficult to believe, look for another article that says the same thing.
- Official websites made by governments, newspapers, encyclopaedias and big TV companies are good places to look.

- 3 Look at the vocabulary box. Find the words in the text. Use the context to work out what they mean.

Tell us about your new song.

I've always been interested in old folk stories from Europe. My favourite is the English legend of Robin Hood. It has everything that makes a good story – drama, action and humour – so I decided to write a song about it.

How do you write your songs?

The story is the most important part. All folk songs have a narrative – a story. My song starts with, 'As I was walking'. I think about where I am, who I'm with and what we're doing. Then I think about what I'm going to do next and the story starts to develop. Next, I think about the tune and rhythm of the song – is it happy and fast, or sad and slow?

We know you play the guitar. Do you play any other instruments?

I play the piano, too, and I'm going to learn the accordion next year. Everyone says it will be difficult, but I disagree – it's quite similar to the piano.

What are your plans for the future?

I'm going to promote my music through social media so that more people can hear it. And I'm going to continue to tour and perform, of course! We're playing here at the Trocadero tonight. Listen! Can you hear the guitars? We're going to start in a few minutes.

After the concert, we asked Martin one last question: 'What will the future of folk music be?' He said: 'That's impossible to predict, but I hope it will always be popular because of how important it is for our history and culture.'

As I was walking with my daughter, One sunny day in spring. We stopped to drink some water, When we heard some children sing.

(Chorus) Robin Hood, Robin Hood, The man who helped the poor. He lived in secret in the woods, A hero in folklore.

They told the tale of Robin Hood, A local man, they'd heard. His arms were strong, his heart was good, And justice was his word.

He lived in Sherwood Forest. And he wore a big green hood. He was noble, he was honest, And gave help to all he could.

🔖 Learning to learn

Understanding rhythm in a song

Songs follow a pattern. You stress certain syllables (parts of words) or words in each line. 'Stress' means you say them more strongly. This creates a rhythm, or pattern. In a song, this is called the 'beat'. In this song verse, the blue syllables and words are stressed:

It's such a bore! It's all the same,

I've finished my computer game.

I've read my books from front to back,

It's such a bore! It's all the same,

I've finished my computer game.

I've read my books from front to back,

And listened to a whole soundtrack.

And listened to a whole soundtrack.

Read the verse out loud and clap the rhythm. Then count the syllables in each line. How many are there?

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 It's such a bore! It's all the same.

1 (1) 7.4 Where is the girl? How does she feel? Listen to the song. What's the problem?

I'm missing art and maths today, Rehearsals for the new school play. I'm happy when I run around, But being inside makes me feel down.

2 Write a title for the song.

3 Look at the song lyrics again. Answer the questions.

e perfect swan There was once a Chinese emperor named Zhang Wei. He was a strong and powerful man, but he was also kind and took care of his people. However, there was one problem he had a bad temper and became angry very quickly.

Zhana Wei loved art. He owned thousands of paintings. but he always wanted one more. One day he asked his assistant, Hong, 'Who is the most famous painter in China?' 'His name is Cheng Li,' replied Hong. 'He's the best artist in the country.'

'Excellent!' said Zhang Wei. 'Do you think he could paint a beautiful swan for me?'

'If you ask him, he'll paint any animal you like,' replied Hong.

Zhang Wei invited the artist, Cheng Li, to his palace.

'Cheng Li!' said Zhang Wei. 'Will you paint a picture of a swan for me?'

'Of course,' replied Cheng Li. 'But it will take some time.'

'I understand,' said Zhang Wei. 'You can stay at the palace until you've finished the painting.'

After one year, Zhang Wei visited Cheng Li in his room at the palace.

'Cheng Li!' said Zhang Wei. 'Is my painting ready yet?'

'I'm sorry,' said Cheng Li. 'Swans are not easy to paint. I'm going to need more time. Could you please come back in another year?'

One year later, the emperor returned, but the painting still wasn't ready. Zhang Wei was furious. 'I'll give you one more year!' he shouted. 'If my painting isn't finished, you'll be sorry!'

Another year later, Zhang Wei came back to collect the painting. Cheng Li put a large sheet of paper on the table. Then he took a brush and some ink and painted the most beautiful swan the emperor had ever seen. Zhang Wei was astonished. 'That ... is ... perfect!' he cried. 'It's magnificent!'

But Zhang Wei was still furious. 'I've waited for three years,' he shouted, 'and you painted this swan in two minutes! How dare you make a fool of me!' He was so angry that he sent Cheng Li to a land far away and told him never to return to China.

A week later, Zhang Wei told his servants to empty Cheng Li's room in the palace. Zhang Wei was astonished when his servants found thousands of paintings of swans. The emperor suddenly realised his mistake. Cheng Li wasn't slow or lazy. He had practised every day for three years until he learnt how to paint the perfect swan.

Zhang Wei had made a terrible mistake because of his bad temper. He sent a message to Cheng Li to say sorry and invited him to come back to China. Cheng Li forgave Zhang Wei and returned to live in the palace as the emperor's royal painter.

Recognising different points of view

Every story has a narrator (the storyteller). The narrator tells us about the characters, actions and setting of the story. The narrator usually tells the story from one of these points of view:

- In first person: the narrator is usually a main character and uses I or we. The reader knows the narrator's thoughts and actions.
- In third person: the narrator is more like an observer of all the characters and uses he, she, it or they. I or we is only used in direct speech.

Look back at The perfect swan. Answer the questions.

- 1 Is it a first person or third person narrative? How do you know?
- 2 Give two examples of how the narrator tells us how the characters feel.

2 Underline the correct options to complete the sentences.

- 1 If my friend comes / will come later, we'll go to the park.
- 2 If we go to the park, we see / will see the swans on the lake.
- 3 We'll stay at home if it rains / will rain.
- 4 If he arrives / will arrive late, I'll be furious.
- 5 I won't finish / finish my homework if you don't turn off the TV.
- 6 If you don't go to bed early, you feel / will feel tired tomorrow.

Look!

The if clause can go at the end of a sentence, too. When it goes second, don't use a comma:

You'll get ill if you don't rest.

Processed food - yes or no?

Year 9, Class 3

Did you see the documentary about healthy eating last night? It said some kinds of processed food are bad for you. Processed food is food which is changed in some way when it's made. Not all processed foods are bad, but the problem is that sometimes chemicals are added to the food to keep it fresh. Processed food can have a lot of salt, sugar and fat, too. We shouldn't eat lots of it.

What kinds of food are processed? Lots of things – bread, biscuits, but also cheese and even meat! The chemicals can be bad for you, so I'm just going to eat fresh food now.

I saw the documentary, too. The problem with fresh food is that it doesn't stay fresh you can't eat it after a week. We need to have food that can stay in a supermarket for two or three weeks. That's why chemicals are added. It's not wrong to eat some processed food.

I agree with PatPotPit. We eat too many processed foods, and they are making us ill. I'm vegetarian. People who eat vegetarian diets don't eat meat. I don't eat processed foods either, and I'm really healthy.

I don't agree with vegetarians. I like eating meat. We're people. We eat meat. That's it. Don't let the media tell you what to do.

There are lots of vegetarians and vegans now – about 80 million people! Vegans don't eat meat, cheese, or drink yoghurt or milk. They all feel better for not eating meat or dairy products.

But vegans eat some processed foods! I think it's dangerous to stop eating meat. We get protein and vitamins and other good things from meat. If you stop eating meat, you won't have energy and you might get ill. We have eaten meat for thousands of years. Why stop now? 🤔

Pat's right. Some processed food is bad for you. We need to make good choices about what we eat. We shouldn't eat many snack foods like crisps and biscuits 📴 🥨 , and we should eat lots of fruits and vegetables.

I'm sorry, I disagree with some of your opinions. I don't think we should all be vegetarians or vegans. I think we should just eat less processed food. But thanks, everyone, for joining in ...

Why is it important to listen to other people's opinions?

🔖 Learning to learn

Using topic sentences

An essay is divided into paragraphs. Each paragraph discusses a different topic. A good essay contains topic sentences. A topic sentence is usually the first sentence in a paragraph. It introduces the main idea of the paragraph so the reader knows what it will be about. Topic sentences give your essay structure and make your arguments clearer.

Read the essay in Activity 1. Write the topic sentences in the correct places.

- a Secondly, I don't agree that we should cut any food from our diet.
- b Every day we hear about another food that is bad for our health.
- c In my opinion, people shouldn't listen to the media.
- d Firstly, I think a small amount of sugar is good for you.

1 Read Bart's opinion essay again and choose the best title.

1	Is sugar bad for your health?

- 2 Should we listen to the media for advice about food?
- 3 Should people eat what they want?

<sup>1</sup> Every day we hear about another food that is bad for our health.

One week it's meat and the next it's bread. Now sugar is in the news, but I don't believe that the media are always right.

A sweet snack can give you energy when you feel tired. When I'm sad, my mum gives me some chocolate to make me feel better.

I believe that it's important to eat a variety of food from different food groups, and to eat the right amount to stay healthy.

They should make their own food choices. Meat, bread and even sugar are important in our diet, but we need to be careful that we don't eat too much.

- 2 Answer the questions.
  - 1 Does Bart agree with what the media say about unhealthy food?
  - 2 What arguments does he give to support his opinion?
- 3 Underline the phrases in the essay that Bart uses to give his opinion.

I don't believe that the media are always right.

1 🕠 9.4 Read the article on pages 118–120. What stories does the text talk about?

Stories are an important part of every culture. There have always been stories. Even before there were languages, people used pictures, signs and sounds to tell stories. Stories express our values, experiences, hopes and dreams, and help us to understand the world around us. Do you remember your favourite stories when you were very young, the ones you always wanted your parents to read to you 'just one more time'? We all need to hear and tell stories, but how did it all begin?

The start of storytelling

Thousands of years ago, people used to sit around their fires at night. There were no books or television, so talking was the only entertainment. They asked questions about things they did not understand, such as, 'Where does fire come from?' Over time, people developed stories that answered these questions.

Before there was writing, it wasn't possible to record stories. People learnt the stories of their culture and told them to their children, who told them to their children. This is called 'oral storytelling'. Without writing, it is how stories are shared over the years and never forgotten.

The earliest forms of storytelling included chants, songs, poems and dance. For example, the Aboriginal people of Australia have shared their stories for thousands of years through very long songs, which also provide a 'map' of the landscape. These are called 'songlines' and they describe the position of natural features, such as rivers, rocks and trees, across the land. This helped people to find their way and travel great distances.

The oldest stories

Writing appeared around 5,000 years ago in Mesopotamia (modern Iraq and Syria). The first writing system was called 'cuneiform'. One of the oldest written stories is The Epic of Gilgamesh. An epic is a long poem about an important person or hero. Gilgamesh was a powerful king in the city of Urduk in Mesopotamia. He lived for a very long time and had many great adventures. The stories were originally oral tales, but over 5,000 years ago people started to collect them and write them on clay tablets in cuneiform.

someone else.'

Other stories that began thousands of years ago are still famous all over the world. The Mahabharata is one of the most important epics of India and is described as the longest poem ever written. It's about the adventures of two groups of princes. At the beginning of the story, the author, Vyasa, tells the reader, 'If you listen carefully, at the end you'll be

The Thousand and One Nights is a collection of stories from the Middle East and South Asia. Scholars started to write down the stories around 1,200 years ago. Many famous and much-loved tales, such as Aladdin, Sinbad and Ali Baba, are from The Thousand and One Nights.

Storytelling in the 21st century

We see and hear stories every day without knowing it. We all know that stories are found in books and films, but did you know that many adverts tell stories? Companies understand how powerful storytelling is and use it to sell their products. This works for many reasons. Stories create experiences and feelings, and we remember these better than facts. Stories create connections between people, so the connection between us (the customers) and the company is much stronger. People share stories, so we tell all our friends about the fantastic new product we have found out about.

Storytelling affects our lives in many different ways. Beginning many thousands of years ago, and continuing into the 21st century, it is the most important tradition we have.

Do we know what time it happened? Inspector Williams:

Yes, it was at exactly five o'clock. There was a camera in the art room. It took a Sergeant Stone:

photograph of a person in a black jacket and trousers.

It didn't get a photo of the person's face? Inspector Williams:

It's never that easy, is it? Sergeant Stone:

Inspector Williams: No, it's not, I agree. Who are those three?

They are the only people who know the entry code to the art room. Sergeant Stone:

Oh? Inspector Williams:

[They walk into the interview room.]

Inspector Williams: Good morning. I'm Inspector Williams, and I'm investigating this robbery. I'm here to take your statements. Can you tell me why you know the entry code to the art room, and what you were doing at five o'clock yesterday?

Peter Cross: Yesterday? You mean Wednesday the 3rd?

Inspector Williams: Exactly.

Peter Cross: I was on a train at five o'clock. I was going to London for work. I know the entry code to the room because I study old paintings. Just a minute - we aren't suspects, are we?

Inspector Williams: We don't know who is a suspect at the moment, sir. We are just finding out what happened. How about you? You know the entry code, don't you?

Timothy Taylor: I know the code because I talk about this painting in class. But at five o'clock yesterday I was in the university café. I think I have a receipt.

Lucy Manders: I know the code too. I'm doing a special project on this painting. But I was playing football yesterday afternoon at five o'clock.

[Later]

Inspector Williams: Look at these newspapers, Sergeant. Very interesting, aren't they?

Sergeant Stone: What's interesting, ma'am?

Inspector Williams: I've solved the crime. I know who stole the painting ... I can prove that one person is not telling the truth.

DAILY NEWS

Power cut hits homes and trains

A huge power cut hit millions of homes yesterday. For 24 hours all homes in the area had no electricity. Traffic lights didn't work and the traffic stopped. All trains to and from London were cancelled, and schools sent their children home. 'It was terrible,' said Mark Warner, who was on the 12.00 train to London. 'Every train was cancelled. There were no trains at all for twelve hours.'

Lucy wins it again!

Lucy Manders scored again against York University in yesterday's exciting match. The match started late at 4.30 pm because one of the teams had problems travelling because of a power cut. But that didn't worry Lucy, who scored three goals in the first half to win the game over York.

Self-motivation for passing end-of-year tests and exams

Sometimes an exam can seem difficult to complete. If you worry about tests and exams, it is important to think about how a test or exam works, and to be persistent as you study. That means that you keep trying even when you find something challenging. Follow these tips:

- 1 You may receive a practice test. This will help you understand what the test will look like, how many questions there might be and what kinds of questions they are - listening, reading and writing or speaking.
- 2 What do you most need to practise listening, reading and writing or speaking? Work with a friend or family member, or ask your teacher if there are example exams you can use.
- 3 Be positive and patient as you practice. Keep trying! Remember times when you have completed a difficult test in the past. What did you do to help you finish the exam well?
- 4 Can you help others feel more confident about exams? Write one sentence of advice for another student.

  - You can ask for a clue if you are unsure.
  - You can guess but clever guestions are better.

Mystery 1

A strange thing happened yesterday. A man came out of a bank, went into the station and got on a train. He was carrying a big leather bag. When the train arrived at his station, he stood up and walked to the doors. Then guess what ... while he was getting off the train, someone took his bag and ran away. The man ran after him, but he couldn't catch him. Suddenly, a police car arrived. A police officer got out and asked the man, 'Do you want to report a crime?' You won't believe this, but the man said, 'No, thank you,' and went back into the station to catch the next train. Why do you think he didn't report the robbery?
